

Scuole 2.0 invites innovative schools from across Europe

11 May 2011, Roma

AGENDA

- 09:30 - 10:00 Registration and coffee
- 10:00 - 10:15 Welcome – From Classe 2.0 to *Scuole 2.0
Giovanni Biondi, Head of Department for planning, human and financial resources, Ministry of Education, Italy
- 10:15 - 10:30 Classe 2.0* – State of the art, challenges, future plans
Rossella Schietroma, Manager of the office for Planning Innovation Policies in Schools, E-learning and Web-cooperation in Education, Ministry of Education, Italy
- 10:30 - 11:30 Panel 1: ICT to support innovative teaching/learning methods
Video: The Gen Y project in Sint Lievens College

Ad-hoc teams composed of pupils of different ages and various talents do research about new learning technologies and develop attractive and interesting teaching methods based on their own needs and experiences.

Invited schools and participants:
 - Sint Lievens College (Gent, Belgium), Steven RONSIJN, The Gen Y project
 - Immaculata Instituut (Oostmalle, Belgium), Bart VERSWIJVEL, The Teacher Aid Project, where students teach teachers how to use different technologies
 - NÖ Mittelschule Langenlois (Langenlois, Austria), Erich BROIDL, ICT use in teaching and learning
 - BG-BRG Klosterneuburg (Klosterneuburg, Austria), Hermann MORGENBESSER, ICT use in teaching and learning mathematics, science and technologyModerator: European Schoolnet
- 11:30 - 11:45 Coffee Break
- 11:45 - 12:45 Panel 2: ICT to support innovative ways to organise school time and space as well as personalised teaching
Video: No classroom, no strict timetable at the Hellerup school

At Hellerup school, students are offered an innovative learning indoor environment, flexible timetables, learning strategies based on the learning style of each single child, and opportunities provided by the surrounding nature.

Invited schools and participants:

- Hellerup school (Copenhagen, Denmark), Anne Mette Kaae PETERSEN
- Lycée pilote innovant international de Poitiers (Poitiers, France), Xavier GARNIER, Personalised teaching and flexible time management in a digital environment
- Corlaer College (Nijkerk, The Netherlands), Ronald SCHAEFER, Team learning, less regular classrooms, more open work domains, close relationships with the local communityin a digital learning environment

Moderator: European Schoolnet

Video: A learning expedition to Corlaer College

Questions from the audience

12:45 - 13:00

Lunch

13:00 - 14:30

The Italian project “The Digital School Action Plan”

14:30 - 15:00

Giusy Cannella, Leonardo Tosi, Elena Mosa, Andrea Benassi, researchers from ANSAS

Panel 3: ICT to support schools build closer relationships with families and the local community

15:00 - 15:45

Invited schools and participants:

- Escola Secundária Domingos Sequeira (Lisbon, Portugal), Ana Cristina de BARROS GARCIA and Guida LOURENCO de ALMEIDA ALVES, A digitally equipped school developing close relationships with a polytechnical university, a research centre un youth, enterprises, parents associations, etc.
- Broadgreen International School (Liverpool, United Kingdom), Peter BANKS and Gael JONES, A pioneer school in virtual learning platform, reaching out and involving the community in every aspect of school life for the sake of inclusion.

Moderator: European Schoolnet

15:45 – 16:00

Coffee Break

16:00- 17:15

Contact session

Participants will have the opportunity to ask questions and discuss informally with all the schools and projects presented during the panels, in 3 thematic groups.

17:15 - 17:45

Conclusions

Marc Durando, Executive Director, European Schoolnet
Giovanni Biondi, Head of Department for planning, human and financial resources, Ministry of education, Italy

Implementing 21st century ways of learning and schooling

12 May 2011, Roma

[Roma Eventi Conference Centre / Piazza di Spagna – sala Fellini, 5 via Alibert]

AGENDA

- 10:00 - 10:30 | Registration and coffee
- 10.30 - 10:45 | Welcome and rationale for the conference
Stefania Fuscagni, non-executive Director of Anas/Indire
Giovanni Biondi, Head of Department for planning, human and financial resources, Ministry of education, Italy
- 10:45 - 11:15 | ICT's role in getting innovation into schools: opportunities and challenges
Luca Toschi, Tenured Professor (at the Università degli Studi di Firenze, Facoltà di scienze della formazione) of Theory and Technique of Generative Communication - Methodological Research Co-ordinator of ANSAS
- 11:15– 11:30 | The Digital School Action Plan
Indire/Anas researchers
- 11:30 - 12:15 | Panel 1: ICT to support innovative teaching/learning methods
Video: The Gen Y project in Sint Lievens College

Ad-hoc teams composed of pupils of different ages and various talents do research about new learning technologies and develop attractive and interesting teaching methods based on their own needs and experiences.

Invited schools and participants:
 - Sint Lievens College (Gent, Belgium), Steven RONSIJN, The Gen Y project
 - Immaculata Instituut (Oostmalle, Belgium), Bart VERSWIJVEL, The Teacher Aid Project, where students teach teachers how to use different technologies
 - NÖ Mittelschule Langenlois (Langenlois, Austria), Erich BROIDL, ICT use in teaching and learning
 - BG-BRG Klosterneuburg (Klosterneuburg, Austria), Hermann MORGENBESSER, ICT use in teaching and learning mathematics, science and technologyModerator: European Schoolnet
- 12:00 - 12:15 | Coffee break
- 12:15 - 13:00 | Panel 2: ICT to support innovative ways to organise school time and space as well as personalised teaching

Video: No classroom, no strict timetable at the Hellerup school

At Hellerup school, students are offered an innovative learning indoor environment, flexible timetables, learning strategies based on the learning style of each single child, and opportunities provided by the surrounding nature.

Invited schools and participants:

- Hellerup school (Copenhagen, Denmark), Anne Mette Kaae PETERSEN
- Lycée pilote innovant international de Poitiers (Poitiers, France), Xavier GARNIER, Personalised teaching and flexible time management in a digital environment
- Corlaer College (Nijkerk, The Netherlands), Ronald SCHAEFER, Team learning, less regular classrooms, more open work domains, close relationships with the local communityin a digital learning environment

Moderator: European Schoolnet

Video: A learning expedition to Corlaer College

13:00 - 14:30

Lunch

14:30 - 15:30

Panel 3: ICT to support schools build closer relationships with families and the local community

Invited schools and participants:

- Escola Secundária Domingos Sequeira (Lisbon, Portugal), Ana Cristina de BARROS GARCIA and Guida LOURENCO de ALMEIDA ALVES, A digitally equipped school developing close relationships with a polytechnic university, a research centre on youth, enterprises, parents associations, etc.
- Broadgreen International School (Liverpool, United Kingdom), Peter BANKS and Gael JONES, A pioneer school in virtual learning platforms, reaching out and involving the community in every aspect of school life for the sake of inclusion.

Moderator: European Schoolnet

15:30 - 16:00

Concrete examples and experience of programmes, projects or school networks encouraging innovation at school level in other countries

- iTEC- Innovative technologies for an engaging classroom (speaker still to be confirmed)
- ENIS-European network of innovative schools: Bernard Racz (Austria), General Secretary of ENIS

16:00 - 16:15

Closing remarks

Giovanni Biondi, Head of Department for planning, human and financial resources, Ministry of education, Italy

